

Dr. Alison Lynn Reaser - Biographical Summary
Chief Economist
Point Loma Nazarene University

As a professional economist, Dr. Reaser brings extensive experience in the financial services sector with an uncanny ability to translate complex economic issues into understandable language with relevant and actionable implications. In her role at PLNU she provides analysis and practical counsel to companies, non-profit organizations, and government agencies through the Economic Institute she is establishing at the University.

From 1999 to 2009, she served as the Chief Economist for Bank of America's Investment Strategies Group, providing the global and U.S. economic framework for investment strategy for high net-worth, institutional, and brokerage clients, encompassing over $500 billion under management.

Dr. Reaser is active in many professional organizations, including serving as the current President of the National Association for Business Economics, an organization of 2300 leading economists and analysts in the U.S. and abroad. She holds a B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. in Economics from the University of California, Los Angeles.